

A promotional poster for a Karaoke Night. The background features three women singing enthusiastically. The woman on the left has curly hair and is wearing a black top with white polka dots. The woman in the center is holding a microphone and has her eyes closed. The woman on the right is also singing with her head tilted back. A large, glowing red sign with a yellow border and small lights is in the center. The sign contains the text 'KARAOKE' in large white letters and 'Night' in a white script font. Two vintage-style microphones are positioned at the bottom corners of the poster.
